To Whom It May Concern,

Based on my experience working with Elmworth Construction, I would not hesitate to recommend this team for any specialty construction project.

Our extensive home renovation was particularly challenging, in that we have a 1912 home and the project consisted of demolishing the middle section of the house and rebuilding the area to meet our needs, yet and most importantly, to maintain the character of the house. The Elmworth team dedicated attention to every detail in the interior finish as well as the exterior elements to ensure our goals were achieved.

The many challenges of renovating a character home of this age were dealt with practically and efficiently, with a view to providing the best possible solutions within a budgeted price.

Everyone at Elmworth Construction worked together to deliver a "new" home that we are extremely happy with.
